Persons wishing to purchase brick will find it to their interest to call on George Garber, at A. S. Marsh's store to obtain prices. GEO. GARBER, No 52-3f.

The following are the officers of the R. C. B. C., for ensuing year: President, Mrs. F. S. Sherwood; vice-president Mrs. M. L. Ballard; Sec. Mrs. E. B. Knight; Treas. Mrs. Walker.

Mr. Z. C. Draper, one of the train baggage men who runs between here and Pacific Junction, Iowa, was in to see us the other day. He handled between Ottumwa and Red Cloud in one day, two hundred and fifty pieces of baggage, mostly through.

J. P. Rankin, who lives in that beautiful little French city situated on lake Erie—Monroe Michigan—was here the latter part of last week for a day or two, looking over the valley with a view to locating. He seems greatly pleased with Red Cloud and vicinity.

As we were coming from the festival the other night, we observed a young gentleman and lady standing in the doorway of a dwelling, and do you believe it, we heard her say:

"You may kiss me and caress me and I'll never say no!"

We have supplied our "devil" with a new jack-knife to whittle hair-pens in order that he may get in a "full line." If he advances as rapidly in the next ten days as he has in the past, we ventured the assertion that he will be a ripe candidate for the next Centennial.

We understand that young Mr. Crosby who has been since last winter stopping with his friend and our townsman, Mr. C. E. Putnam, in the latter's grocery store, is on the verge of death from the effects of that fell disease, consumption. Such sights of human decay are sad to behold, and yet the number of them in our land is fearful, but probably our climate restores many who are not too far gone when they come to it.

C. F. Chase, editor and proprietor of the Atlantic, (Iowa), Democrat, and a brother-in-law of our esteemed contemporary over the way, is in the city. Mr. C., expresses himself as well pleased with our state, and Red Cloud and vicinity in particular. He will remain here for a few days yet before his return. We found him to be a pleasant conversationalist.

A man by the name of Wheat, who has been working on the railroad section at Blue Hill, committed suicide Saturday last. It seems that two or three days previous to his death, in some way, hurt one of his toes, and was notified by the doctor that amputation would be necessary. It is supposed that this weighed so heavily on his mind, that he avoided the much-dreaded operation, by shooting himself through one of his lungs.

Monday morning as we were about to enter our office to our surprise there walked before us the embodied spirit of our genial friend and townsman, C. H. Potter, whom we supposed was luxuriating on the fresh air and fishes of Minnesota, but the trill of his musical voice convinced us that our suppositions were not founded on facts. But he assured us that he had been a good boy while away, which is a very good thing for boys to be.

The Methodist Sunday school are making arrangements for an excursion down to Red Cloud. The date will be fixed next week. The excursion intends to take the band and ball club with them. A good time will be had by all who go.—Hastings Gazette-Journal.

LATER—The time has been fixed the date being the 9th inst. A good time is expected. Everybody come and bring your sisters and your cousins and your aunts.

We are happy and deem ourselves fortunate in having secured the services of A. J. Cline, Jr., not unknown to the fraternity in central southern Nebraska, to preside over, and conduct the mechanical department of the Chief's business. We are indebted largely for this to the courtesy of our contemporary, the Argus man, with whom Mr. Cline was at the time of our purchase of the office, who consented to his coming here at our solicitation. Mr. C. has an experience of over ten years, and if we judge correctly has not been "sleeping on his opportunities." His journalistic ability doubtless exceeds our own.

We would suggest that the Hastings Argus take out that catch-line wherein is mentioned "daily and weekly"—omit the former named, Georgia, as people know your "alabama" discontinued its daily publication two years ago, for two reasons, i. e. First, lack of support, and secondly, failure of getting types for $25.00 a week and feed them on potatoes and new-bled.

Many supposed that when the train ran through to Denver, and the eating house at the depot was finished, the hotels up town would be nearly deserted, the landlords say they see but little difference, their houses are just as full and some of them seem to think fuller than before, and upon a little reflection this seems natural. The volume of travel is largely increasing and the eating house does not more than accommodate the increase in the through travel.

The Chief's aim will be to advocate home interests in the broadest sense—home industries, manufacturing, agricultural and all other professions and branches of industry that tend to create prosperity and promote the welfare of the community in which we live. While it is true a great portion of this country has suffered in times past, from drought etc., yet we are buoyed up with the hope that the winter of our discontent will soon be made glorious summer by the return of more favorable seasons and more prosperous times, and surely good times and prosperity are dawning upon us.

We thought when we got up about day-light last Thursday morning, nobody could be happier than we. We were contemplating how very profuse our good old friend Providence had been in the bestowal of his special gifts. We were dreaming of all the happiness that should come to us as a member of Nebraska's next legislature, when Rufus Miksh, his face all aglow with smiles and excitement, said, "they had a fight down at his house the night before, but came off victorious and took in a loyal Union boy of 10 1/2 pounds weight, and as he left us we felt that there was one happier man than we, and that if we were in his boots we might be as happy as he."

Mr. L. W. Miller with W. W. Tatro as managing foreman of the Red Cloud Creamery, tells us that the business of the house is all, and even more than they expected. That they have about 400 cows on hand and produce about 200 lbs. of butter per day. Mr. and Mrs. Miller both seem to be very intelligent persons, and bring with them good business references. Mrs. M., especially seems to us to be a lively lady.

DEED—Wednesday, Aug. 25, Ruth N. wife of S. N. Richmond, of Walnut Creek, suddenly after giving birth to what the father deems the most beautiful, healthy and robust female child of a family of five. When we consider the tender, affectionate, christian interest this woman took in the recovery of our own dead wife in her lingering lapse of illness last winter, we mourn her as a very dear friend. We will doubtless ever remember the touching tenderness of her words to us one day.

"For your sake, I hope she may be spared." God we trust will keep and bless all such angel-minded spirits.

So fade the flowers from earth away, So pass our loved ones in their fill, But holier spheres they there will fill, Exulting always in God's will.

Final Arrangements for the Teachers Institute.

The Institute will open at 2 o'clock on Aug. 7, 1882, and continue three weeks. The order of exercises will be as follows: Music—prayer—address of welcome by Arthur A. Pope ex-county Supt. Response by Prof. J. A. Campbell, conductor of the Institute—Music.

After these exercises the instructors will make short addresses to the Institute, making out the line of procedure in each of their respective departments. Then they will meet and arrange daily programme. We especially invite the citizens of town and country to be present at the opening, and let every teacher be promptly on time.

Do not forget that W. W. W. Jones, state Supt., delivers the first address next Tuesday evening. Every teacher should hear it. Prof. Funk will speak on Thursday evening, and Prof. Thompson of the state University on Friday the 11th. Admission 10 cents; tickets to entire course, 75 cents.

On Friday, Aug. 18, we wish to meet the school officers of the county, especially from those districts that do not have a uniformity of school books, in council regarding the best means to bring about such a desirable end. This will give our school officers an opportunity to visit the Institute, compare work, get acquainted with one another and not least, engage teachers for the fall and winter terms of school. The best teachers will be at the Institute.

An examination of teachers will take place at the close of the Institute, beginning Friday, Aug. 25 and continuing Saturday following. All applicants for certificates will be charged one dollar, which is to be applied to ward Institute fund, according to law. Come out everybody and let us have the best Institute in the best school room in south-central Nebraska.

Your co-worker, Co. Supt.

Meeting of the Senatorial Central Committee.

RED CLOUD, NEB., Aug. 1, 1882.

PURSUANT to a call of the chairman of the republican central committee, the members of the 23rd Senatorial District, met at the office of L. F. Albright, for the purpose of determining upon the time and place of holding the Senatorial Convention to apportion the delegates thereto, and to transact such other business as might properly come before them.

Upon motion it was agreed that the convention be held at Red Cloud, Nebraska, Sept. 18th, 1882. That delegates be appointed the same as to the state convention, to-wit: Webster county eight, (8), Franklin county five (5), Nuckolls county five (5).

L. F. ALBRIGHT, Chairman.

J. E. KELLEY, Franklin county, H. W. Short, Nuckolls county.
